2009 Non-Profit Partner: STARS

Seeing a child's joy as she skis for the first time is all the encouragement Steamboat Training Adaptive Recreational Sports (STARS) board members need to continue their work building the fledgling organization. STARS was formed in 2006 when several adaptive instructors and interested community members, noticed a dramatic increase in demand for adaptive lessons. Before STARS was created, the Steamboat Ski & Resort Corp. solely operated the local adaptive ski program. Increased demand meant equipment shortages, which led ski area officials to turn the program over to a nonprofit organization that could write grants to fund new equipment. STARS also provides scholarships for adaptive skiers, providing recreational opportunities that many might not otherwise find possible.

Scholarship applications and STARS information can be obtained at www.steamboatstars.com, and lessons/equipment can be booked through the Steamboat's ski and snowboard schools reservation line at 970-871-5375. For more information about STARS, to become a STARS volunteer, or to learn other ways you can help, call STARS at 970-819-8197.
